UNION PACIFIC CRISIS

The Road to Be Sold on November 1st.

THE GOVERNMENT FREE TO ACT

No Agreement or Understanding Entered Into With the Reorganization Committee.

WASHINGTON, October 5,—Attorney General McKenna had an extended con-ference today with ex-Governor Hoedley in regard to the pending Union Pacific

With reference to the statement cabled With reference to the statement cabled from London last night to the effect that an English syndicate had forwarded a bild for the Union Pacific property in competition with that of the reorganization support the statement of t competition with that the recognition commission, the attorney general said that although no foreign bid had yet been received it was a fact that the government had received inquiries from foreign sources and be had no doubt that the capitalists of this country and England would see to it that the prop-erty is not sold at a price much below

The government, he said, had entered into no agreement or understanding with the reorganization committee or anyone else by which they were to have the road at $45,000,000 or any other

The property, he added, would be sole under forcelesure proceedings to the highest bidder and the only connection the government had with the organiza-tion committee was that the latter guarantead that, if the government would join in the formlosure proceedings, the committee would guarantee that a bid of at least $45,000,000 would be received for the government's equities.

Under this pledge, the good faith of

YELLOW JACK'S VICTIMS.

Many New Cases, But the Death

Rate is Low.

Rate is Low.

NEW ORLEANS, October 5.—After two days of improvement and of promise the freer cituation, on the face of the record, took somewhat of a turn today. For forty hours there had been no death, and yeaterday the number of cases had shown material falling oil from the day before. Early this morning, however, the reports of new cases began to come into the Board of Health office with considerable rapidity, thirty-one being reported during the day, breaking all previous records this scaen. In a few hours three deaths had also been reported to the board.

Dispatches received this evening an nounce that there are two cases of yellow fever on a plantation near l'atterecen, La, and one suspicious case. All are traceable to Ocean Springs.

Monuts, Ala, October 5,—"We have not given up the fight yet," said Health Office Goods today when the noon report was published showing two new cases and two deaths.

Enwanne, Mises, October 5,—Nice For forty hours there had been no cases and two deaths.

EDWARDS, Miles., October 6.—Nine new cases of yellow lever word reported today and one death, that of 1. C. Wimborly, an influential citizen. The ledaths to date number lifteen and the total number of cases reported to date is 344. There are 134 patients now under treatment.

The organ of the Spinney combination is making desperate efforts to defend the attack of the politicians upon the conceded rights of the Volunteer Firemen and put the department in a false light. But it cannot succeed. In ite last issue it says regarding the position of the REPUBLICAN:

That paper now fails back ou the proposition that it is but reasonable that the board should allow the fire companies to nominate the persona to be appointed or employed to serve in the salaried places. No one doubts or disputes, or ever doubted or disputed, to exason and justice of such a rule, so long as the disputed of the meaning as the disputed of the di of the Republican:

As an exhibition of upadulterated gall, this leaves nothing to be desired. The Expositor says that no one disputes, or has disputed, the reason and justice of the rule that the volunteer firemen be permitted to select men for the paid places, except in case of lawless spirit, etc. Could anything be mure ridicalous than the claim that the action of the trustees was justified by an infraction of the law by a paid member of the department? There certainly could not be. The duty of the board in such an event is perfectly plain. It is to punish any such fireman by discharging him, not to attack the department for the action of one member. That is not only a right but a duty of the trustees. No one questions that. The trustees have the undisputed right to discharge paid firemen. The department does not deeire to interfere with that right, The volunteers only sek, when vacancies occur, that they shall be permitted to name members of the department for places. They ask that they shall have the selection of men under whom they fight fires; that outsiders shall not be thrust into these places for political organ of the Aristocracy, renders pre-posterous their sepirations to fill such positions as the supervisorship. If anybody should succeed in misrepresenting it, to that person it would deal, butthen uniher and large variety of newly-whetted knives they are carrying up their eleves do not augur well for the office-recking Aristocracy.

There is no doubt about that, they are united and determined, and They are united and determined, and process who are trying to reduce prices produing immberners and recking butching range.

Office gambling lies always haen the rule in freezo during fair week, but it at mighty poor rule and cannot be too soon set aside for the rule set up by the city ordinances. The interests of the city ordinances. The interests of the struct enforcement of the law.

The organ of the Aristocracy ease it "can stand misrepresentation." Stand it! It ought to keep this advertisement standing in its columns:

for that matter.

WANTED - MISREPRESENTATION IN large quantities. Any kind will do. It ought to pray for it.

FARCE COMEDY REPUBLICS

The present revolt among the Centra American states is further proof of the fact that the Spanish-American countries are unable to govern themselves. There is not a month of the year if we are to credit the news dispatches when a so-called "revolution" is not going on and other "middle clase" paople, and the remarks they made on that occasion would make very interesting reading, after passing through the hands of an arrangement. the minor offices are parceled out among his adherents. Knowing the uncertain tenure by which he holds, he makes good use of his time and wields the taxing power without mercy. Now another leader, probably dissatisfied with his share of the revenues, inaugurates au-other "revolution" and if successful asrumes control. To call these countries republics is a To call these countries republics "a travesty on that term. In the city of Durango in Mexico, the most enlightened country of the lat, less than 100 votes were oast against President Diaz last fall. Durango is a city of about 03,000 people, and if there was such a thing as freedom of the ballot there no such result cauld take place, however applies the condidate.

It is generally admitted that a mixture of races is harder to govern than a pure race of any class. The population of all these countries is very much mixed and this accounts largely for the continuous turmoil that exists there. Turs was plunked by the Delia's Loca

Each horse and mule and ass and cow and sheep and hog and steer is worth a good deal more than it was valued at last year.

The poet, however, should not be harshly condemned, lie cannot help it. It is all due to the famine in India.

ESTEEMED CONTEMPORARIES

Stockton Mail: Yes, we have mose-backs. There is no doubt of that. But there are not enough of them to encourtist own when it holds sail and starts for the port of Good Times.

Tulare Register: The raisin growers of Freene county are lighting very hard and courageously for 3½ cents in the sweat box for their raisins as a basis rate, and the raisins growers can get it they will only hold to their goods and refuse to sell. They ought to have it.

Bakerslield Echo: Those who had raising on paper trays lost heavily down the valley. But let not the man with the board yard congratulate himself that this gettles the fate of the paper tray. It will black-eys the kind now in use, but inventive genies will produce a better one for next year. Paper pulp is going to press wood very bard for supremacy in many lines before the new contury is very old.

Visalia Times: Dan Hiten of Threa Rivers is in town on business. Dan has the reputation of having killed mora bears than any offer man in Tulare county, and this reputation is well founded. He has killed forty-seven bears in the open bunt, not counting a large number he caught in trape. Mitten learned to tackle brain back in the hills of old Kentucky sixty years ago. He has been in Tulare county twenty years and is nearly 77 years of age, but he likes to hunt hear yet.

Talate Register: The State university is getting some good advertising through the prospectus which has been sent out to architects ellower the word inviting them to take part in the Phoebe Hearst building plan competition. In this competition architects will be given an opportunity to "swing" themselves. The demand is for a purfect building from an artistic standpoint without regard to expense. There is to be no limit placed upon the cost, under which conditions an architect may do good work if it is in him. And in this matter there is no room for a roar in the name of economy. Mrs. Hearst furnishes the money for this particular building, the bowest-down taxpayer having nothing to do with it.

aw resulted they simply used that as an excuse for carrying out their scheme. The situation is so plain that their organ can deceive no one.

The position of the department is so reasonable and just, and the position of the trustees so unreasonable and so unjust, that the former cannot be successfully attacked or the latter successfully defended.

And it is not only the principle involved, but the results which follow that

THE "MIDDLE CLASS."

Will Show Their Appreciation of the "Expositor's" Opinion. From the Kern County Californian.

Speaking of the question of filling the vacancy in Fresna county caused by the leath of a supervisor there, the Exposfor pays the following tribute to a class of citizens that is generally supposed to growing is one of the big successes of county horticulture. He began with a small planting as an experiment about ten years ago when he dret name to the county from San Maton. It was then genorally believed that premas would not succeed hero. At that time Mr. Newell planted his thirty-five-acre vineyand and the trees. But it was the two arree of prunes that came first into bearing and they have keptright at it ever since. Fully satisfied that prunes would been in this section, five years ago Mr. Newell planted eix acres more, and four years ago another six arres in prunes. Early this season he estimated that corpor on the tree as equal to thirty tons of dried prunes. His manager of pickers estimated it at forty tons. Since the pleking and caring is fairly under way Mr. Newell conciders fifty tons a conservative estimated, it at forty tons. Since the pleking and caring is fairly under way Mr. Newell conciders fifty tons a conservative estimated that forty tons. Since the pleking and caring its fairly under way Mr. Newell conciders fifty tons a conservative estimate, and applying tank and is handling the prunes secontifically. Treatly-tice non are at work in the orchord and at the dipping tanks and drying grounds.

Mr. Newell's vineyard is yielding him over a ton of raisins to the nere. A conservative estimate, places his assured returns this season blone from about fifty acres of bis form at nearly 87000.

This is not all, for fine fields of alfalfa lia among the ornhand and vineyards and other tree fruits, while not counting so heavily as mand this season on account of codin moth are bringing in a fair return for investment and falson.

Is there another state in the Union that can equal this showing, or another county in the elette that can better it?

Fruit and Grain Markets. form the backbone of every community: lornt the backbone of every community:

It's a mistake to believe that the farmer, with a fair sprinking of hay seed in his hair, the good, steady, plouding immberman, the butcher recking with the red blond of the cuttle he has just shin or the keeper of the unabside inn are the only men presessing requisites for the place. In fact and in truth most of this class of people are least fitted to hold these positions of any man in the community.

This will doubtless sould be required.

This will doubtless tend to popularize the Expositor in the rural sections of Freeno county, for the "hayeneds" and "butchers" will surely feel grateful to he made acquainted with their unworth and unfitness for the good things of this life.

Of course the inclement weather affected the attendance at the fair year terday. Manager Rockman expected a big opening day, for had not the weather expert predicted fair and warmer weather, and was there not a big crowd in town waiting for the gates of the fair in town whiting for the gare of the lar-grounds to open? But, then, the weather man was not so much to blame after all. The storm was an equinoctial affair. Of source groupbody knows the time of the year equinoctial storms pay their calls, but the exact day and hous is not so easy to guess. They are "so deucedly infawmal, doncherknow," and

A. U. Warnekros of this city yesterlay received a letter from his son Frank, cho is on the way to Dawson City. The who is on the way to hawten city. The letter is dated at Sheep Camp, Septem-ber 13th, and its perueal is calculated to dampen the ardor of any but the most determined gold seeker. Young Warne kros first intended to go by way of Skagmy and White's pass, but, fluding that route to be almost impassable, he changed his plane and made for Dyea. His letter in as follows: "We experienced quite a delay at

His letter is as follows:

"We experienced quite a delay at Skagnay in getting our goods off the ship on account of low water, and when we finally got them off we had to take them on small hoats, to wed by a tag, to Dyea. From there we packed to this place (Sheup Camp), which is about ever miles from Dyea, but it was very hard work. We bought a boat at Dyea for Si and mu a third of our stoff on at a time, and then pulled it by hand up the river to a place called the Proint, about two miles. The river was so low that we had to lit the boat ever the rocks in many places, and often we were compelled to wade up to our waits in water. "From the Point there's a trail to this place, and we packed our gould over it on our backs and also employed a horse. I will try to describe the trail to you senarly as poseible. It has been raining here meet all thes time and enowing in the mountains, so the trail is in a very bad condition. It is a running mass of mud over rocks up the mountains, and horses are 17 jug dead all along the trail where they allipped down the canyon or fell off the logs which crose small ravines. Sometimes borses are drowned in crossing the rivers and their packe lost, but we got over easiery. However, our borse was badly cut about the legs by the rocks, and our feet were co sure for a few days that we could hardly stand on them.

"We are packing from here to a place and of the call of the day." "The rest of the call of the day." "The rest of a place and them."

or a few days has we will and on them.

"We are packing from here to a place realled The Scales. It is about five miles from here, We shall have everything there tomorrow and then the real hard work will begin—that of marking over the Chilcoot pass, which is very dangerous now on account of the strong wind, army and rain. One man was blown oil.

the Chicot pass, which is very dangerous now on account of the strong wind, amow and rain. One man was blown oil the summit last week and killed, and reveral others were severely injured. In many places one has to crawl on one's hands and knees.

"We expect to be over the pass by the 19th, after which we will build our boat and start down the river to the mines; but we cannot get there this fall on account of snow and the dangerous blizzards. We will go us far as possible, however, and build a log house to spand part of the winter in, resuming our journey as soon as the snow is in a conjusted to the winter in, resuming our journey as soon as the snow is in a conjusted to the winter in, resuming our journey as soon as the snow is in a conjusted to the winter in, resuming our journey as soon as the snow is in a conjustion to allow travelsing. That the Chinese play has become a distinct amusement feature was demonstrated inst week by the thousands who filled the Auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday evenings to witness the first presentation in San Joes of Charles Ulriph's drama, "A Celestial Maiden." With the "Pires I form" was evident enough, but it was also certain that the novelty of Mr. Ulriph's play, as well as its undisputed merits as a dramatic composition, moved a strong drawing card. The Chinese character is an interesting one went to those who know it so well, and you would be character in an interesting one even to those who know it so well, and you would not have a character in an interesting one even to those who know it so well, and you would not have a character in an interesting one even to those who know it so well, and you would not have a character in an interesting one even to those who know it so well, and you would not have to be a constructed on dramatic lines both as their month, as the Frongle say, and interest though any constructed on dramatic lines both as to their month, as the Frongle say, and into development of the plot.

In "A Celestial Maiden" there is sufficient, cannedy to enliven what might otherwise by a some per tory. The story of this play goes from start to finish to the wish as a sout and taste. It gives one comment ones can increase in the character in San Francisco.

Cold—Reavy Materials Shown For Autumn Fashions—Fancy Waistcoats to Enjoy Great Vogue—Other Stytes.

There seems to exist an impression the manufacturers and the tai-at the autumn is to be early and cold and that snow may be expected long before Thanksgiving. At least this is so if one may judge from the heavy materials which are already being shown for the autumn fashions. Tweeds and cheviots and homespuns will be rorn in business and morning suitings. There is little variation in the colors, gray mixtures leading and brown close ly following. The rough blue cheviels which were quite popular this summer make capital autumn sack suits and with light overcents will be worn well

They are dressy, and on tall and thin men are quite sightly, but they account at stoutness and smallness of statum. All suck suits otherwise will be made single breasted. Men returning from England seem to have taken to checks, and there is a dispatition to make them popular this autumn. A very smart suit, fresh from a London tailor, was of dark gray turning to drab homespun dark gray turning to drab homespun with the check bar black. The English with the check terr black. The English still cling to the morning or cutaway coat in all rough unferials, but this one was a sack, just slightly cutaway at the bottom. In this country it would be called a three button sack entaway. There are many cutaway saits in rough goods for morning and business went, but they can only be worn by the tall man, who seems to have the preference in tailows models. But slicer men have their instings in the striped cheviots and the dark mathetials with a white stripe attemp which were so much seen stripe pattern which were so much see mer, and which will be repre ing this branch of the subject it would American tailors in regard to the cut American failors in regard to the cut-away business coats. The waist length is put at 19 and the full length at 33 inches. Double breasted fancy waist-casts will be much the fashion, espe-cially with men who can wear these long waisted cutaways. Troussas are cut this year so as to taper a little more, but neither too tight nor too loose, at the bottom about 17½ inches and at the hortom about 17½ inches and at the lace about 19. In evening dress there is some inno-vation. The shawl collar ovening col-is again being advented by the tailors. In England, it is called the roll collar, In England it is called the roll collar, and the calm itself and the lapel roll to the waist are covered with heavy twilled silk or pean do sole. The American coats have a waist length of 18 and a full length of from 37 to 38 inches. In London Lord Rosebery recently appeared in one of these peaked lapel coats, with the silk facings brought out to the extreme edge. The shirts were very long, and the garmont was lined with heavy silk. The double breasted white marseilles waisteent is much work with evening dress, and much worn with evening dress, and military ideas being greatly in favor the last evening trousers from London have two lines of braid down the sides.

In overcoats the English covert has become shorter than ever. It should be but four inches longer than a sack become shorter than ever. It should be but four inches longer than a sack coat and should never be worn over a freek. The material is waterproof. There are double rows of stitching, even as many as six of these, on the cuffs. There is no broast pecked, and in fact this is bandshed now from all properly made coats of any description. The collar is of the same material as the cost, but silk facel to the lupels. The double breasted Chesterfield occaeout reaches to about the call of the leg. In many of the acting satis the landscar breeches are made of different material from the coat and waisteast. Leather leggings are much in favor. They batton down the center of the leg. Brown is the bus cloth is bandshed from the knickers, the leggings coming up over the knick. ### A HUMAN LORGNETTE.

By Its Aid the Interior of the Body May

In 14 Aid the Interior of the Bedy May

Gaston Seguy of Paris has invented what he calls the "numan lorgnette."

He was the first man in France to successfully repeat the experiments of Roentgen. He is 32 years old, is director of the Radiographic Institute of France and has invented a dozen scientific appliances.

The great advantage of his new apparatus is that it is no larger and is as convenient to bandle as a parlor stereopticon. In its small compass he has put all the electric storage cells, transformers and tubes necessary for obtaining the X ray. He claims that it will show the 'interior of the lumman bedy of a Lone Old Woman.

Mrs. Hazeltine lives in Columbus avenue, New York. She was awakened at 8 o'clock the other morning. By the dim light sine beheld a strange mas standing in the door of the bedroom. She was not frightened.

"How did you get in, and what do you wunt?" she asked in a clear voice.

"In the door," she says he maswered.
"Tell the truth," said the motherly old woman with old fushioned firmness.
"You know you didn't. Now with!"

"You know you didn't. Now, didn't you break in by the window?"

"Yes."
"Sit down," said the old woman soft

The burghe sat down awkwardly. The burgher set down nwhwardly, "Aren!" you askinded to rolt an old woman like mu?" asked Mrx Hazeltine,
"How did I know you were old?" answered the burgher,
"Bid you over have a mother?" asked
Mrs. Hazeltine gently.
The burglar made no answer,
"She would be abent my age, and her hair would be as white as mine," continued Mrs. Hazeltine, "Har't it so?"
"Yes."

"Yes"
"Is she alive or dead?" asked Mrs. "Is she nitvo or dend?" asked Mrs.
Itazeltine in her low, featl vaige.
The hurgher termed white. "Dead,
flank God," he answered.
After the hurgher's eyes filled with tears Mrs. Hazeltine asked him:
"Won't you show me the way you

FOR BABY TRAVELERS.

A Railway Narsery Is the Newest Thing on Wheels.

A traveling nursery is to take its place alongside of the barber shop, bathroom, etc., on our fast trains. It will place alongside of the larber sloop, lath-room, etc., on our fast trains. It will take up about the space of the private stateroom of the ordinary sleeping car. The walls of the unrary are to be padded and the floor thickly carpeted. At each, end of the compartment are two exy costs for the smaller children to recline on while watching the games of the older ones. Oftomans and easy chairs are disposed about the floor. Each car containing the unrary attachment will carry a matron or mose, will sup-plies of will and other children. A medicine chest with simple reme-

A medicine chest with simple ren dies and a miniature by shop supplies with everything from rattles to pictur banks and fatry tales are adjuncts of the nursery. Nothing in short, will be missing that will add to the coulor and anuscumul of very young travelers—Railway Age.

It is called Eureka and is an Excellent Huminiant.

The new luminiant—neetylenc—has new a rival, to which the mame of enclar gus has been given. This gas is the invention of Mr. Heetor de Fazi of Mourchascone, Italy, It is said to be obtained as follows: Lime as pure as possible is emplayed as a base, colophony and calcium carbido being added. One thousand parts of the mixture randy for use consist of 900 of quick-lime, 60 of colophony and 00 of calcium carbide. There is said to be no four of arplosion by mixing with air, no heating of water and an special humer needdo. One thousand parts of the mixture give 00 liters of gas at a pressure of 8 millimeters of water. The photometric intensity of the flamain stated to be 92.4 intensity of the flame is stated to be 93. intensity of the name is sate to be 2 and and anony, and the same amount of calcium carbide employed singly would only give 18 candle hours. It is chaimed that curcks gas is 50 per cent cheaper than acetylene, or that at equal cost it will give half as much mere light.—In-

What is "Social Position"

What is "Social Position?"
People who belong to what is called the "best society" in large towns or cities, says Houry Childs Merwin in The Atlantic, are usually quite unconscious of the fact that society is graded scious of the fact that society is granty just as minutely beneath them as it is in the plane with which they are fa miliar. But, in fact, every individua tu a complex society, down to the begga in the street or the tramp on the high way, has his "social position." The city missionaries of Boston report, with e astonishment, that a great socia over, even from the most aristocratic point, of view, a good reason one by given for incepting wealth as a substitute for birth. The fact that a man has made much money implies, as a relegion to the physical strength are far above the average. From what botter stock, then, could the host society be recruited? This, of course, is not the motive of the rich wants recenting its aried section. Has No Money, but Will Not Ber.

William John Thaler called at the sheriff's officu in 'Nt. Loria the other day and asked Sheriff Troll to sign his mane in a book whileh he carried. There and that he was making a four of the world on foot and that he started from Montreal May 18, 1895.

He says that he has traveled 10,000 miles and intends to walk 23,000 miles and intends to walk 23,000 miles or more before he goes through. He has a roate mapped out, which he expects to go to be a superior of the says that he has traveled Grough Michigan, having first passed through Grebes and Ortario, and then passed through the States of Indiana, Hilmois, Childernia, Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas and Missouri. From here he goes south and will visit old Mexico, taking man's reception in good society. It reason for permitting the anomaly.

In the biography of George Washington by Professor Woodrow Wilson (Hurper's) occurs the following description of Washington as a sportsman scription of Washington as a sportsman:

"Washington loved horses and dogs with the heartiest sportsman of them all He had a great gusto for stalking deer with George Mason on the broad icrested tracts round Genston Hall and liked often to take gun or rod after lesser game when the day fell dull, but hest of all he level a horse's back and the hard ride for hours together after the dags and a crafty quarry—a horse it put a man to his points to ride, a country where the running was only for those who dared. His own mounts could nowhere be bettered in Virginia. There was full blond of Araby in his noble Magnolia and as good hunting blood as was full blond of Araby in his noble Magnolia and as good hunting blood as was to be found in the colony in his Blueskin and Ajax, Valiant and Chinkling. His hounds he bred 'so fisew'd, so sanded, 'so matched in speed and habit, that they kept always time and pace together in the field. Thus first to the stables for him always in the morning and then to the kennels.'

There were other pleasures, too, in the life of a country gentleman of Virginia, and Washington did not scent them.

As is well known, a frequent source of "unaccountable" firs turns out to be, in reality, the spuntaneous signition of various materials more or less saturated with elis or futs. It Snited You Multke. Once, while traveling, Molike, the German general, came to Zurich and walked to the hotel. As the head waite or saw his guant figure stalking in, wrapped in a wornout, dusty closk, carrying m old leather satched, he measured his wealth by his looks and energing in on leather sales, and entered the assistant to show him to a small room in the uppermost story. Molific followed without remonstrance. As he was making himself comfertable in the attion mother assistant came, as is customary there, to usk the silent stranger his name and rank. These oreated no small constenation in the office of the hotel. The consequence was that a few minutes later mine host, with a retirupe of "kollner," all in full dress, appeared at the attic door to inform his excellency that a better from had just been vacated in the "belgate." "Give that to my servant," replied Moltke, "when he comes with our earinge. This is good enough for me." And he remained.—Berlin Letter.

It is indeed asserted, and with considerable furth, that mere wealth is a passport to the best society, but this is less true in America than it is in England and less true in Australia than it is in Ancrica.

The reason is that in England the best society is a state institution and therefore is more sun of its position and can afford to be less exclusive—to be more hospitable act only to wealth, but also to intellect and originality—than is possible for the corresponding class in a democratic country. and order the apparatus back to the cigine houses.

Curious persons who could not understand why the stateliest church in Syrmous should be allowed to burn unhindered investigated the matter and discovered that fundation of the buildling was in process.

It was given out on short notice that no services would be held in the church owing to regains. It was learned that the only needed regains were the burning of sulphur in large-quantities in every part of the edifies. The church was thoroughly overhanded during the summer, and the carpets and enshines were sent to a denner. When they came back, they were full of them, This fact was communicated to the trustees, who notified the paster that no services could be held until the pests were dishudged.

SEEN FROM FRANCE.

HOW AMERICA AND AMERICANS ARE PICTURED IN PARISIAN PAPERS.

People For Which French Sournals Are Responsible Chinds Mentioned in the Birthplace of George Washington.

A short time age a young American came to Paris for the first time. After pending a week loitering up and down he grand honleverds and the Rue d Riccli in the wake of his compatriots he conceived the idea that he would like to know something of the real Puris and of real French life and particularly and of red. French life and particularly to become acquainted with the French iden of things in general. He was ad-vised by a Frenchman that the most ex-peditions route to this knowledge was the advantage of a certain Paris present by a Ference to this knowledge was through the columns of a certain Paris apper. Le Petit Parisien, "That," said he, "is the paper of the Freach bantsgoisie, it reflects Framer. It has a circulation of $00,000 caples a day. It has no palities. It is very conservative. Its foreign newsits good and trust-worthy, which you will like, Jean Froilo, its chief editorial writer, is a very learned man and makes a specialty of things American. Read Le Parisien; you'll like it, and you'll be sure that you're getting real French views." The young man began to read Le Petit Parisien religiously. As the Frenchman had said, it had a good deal of foreign news.

In the fust formight's reading of Le Petit Parisien's editorial articles the

In the first, formight's reading of Le Petit Parisien's editorial articles the young American camo across some peculiarities in the way of foreign news, which he marked, with a note of the article in which they occurred. With the parts from Le Parisien in quotation marks they were as follows:

Lender on rolations of Canada and France: "Canada is indeed a great country, and it may well be proud of lawing been the hirthplace of the patriot George Washington."

Lender on review of troops in Russia: "Among the celebrated persons who sat down to the lunchedn was the brilliant commander in chief, of the American army, General Nelson."

great soratu power or maxing namey, etc.

Among his other "finds" in Le Petit Partisten during this fortnight was one in the movel which is running as a femillation. The scene of the first few chapters is laid in America, in the neighborhood of the city of New York. The heroine lives at n "chateau" 20 miles from the Battery. One afternoon she desires to go out for a walk, but, to use the words of the author, "she feared to do so on account of the Indians, reports of whose depredations had lately come to her cars."

of whose depredations had lately come to her cars."

The young American, always learning new things, finally came across a two column editorial entitled "The Americans at Home." It uponed with the words, "The Americans have a calessal facctionsness."

Farther along in the same article there was an estimate of the "country-incu of Chara Ward" conceived as follows:

"That native audacity which from the cradle prevents them from ever doubting themselves; that absence of discretion concerning matters which have the way to their caprices; that dishin of projudices, of etiquette, of justice, of common sense, together with the unexpectedness, the disjoint chars and the grandiosity of their ideas, really go fur-

It has recently been proved by microscopic examination that ink is liable to contain pathogonic bacteria. Dr. Marpmann of Liepsic has Intoly published the results of examination of 57 samples of ink used in schools. Saprophytes, lactoria and microcacci were found in most of them. In two instances the doctor succeeded in cultivating, a bacillus from migrasin hic which proved fatal to mice within four days. But most bacteria are harmless, and it has been accuratined by the notual experiments of some eminent New York scientists that in the many varioties of full used that in the many varieties of this used in that eity, which they tested, there were no disease germs.
